Dear sir or madam,

I am writing to recommend John Wise to your Graduate School.

John has a very inquiring mind and a great understanding of logic, processes, and math. He is also very entrepreneurial, which is how I first met John as he applied himself completely during his undergraduate degree.

John showed interest in Digital Signal Processing, a skill we needed, to develop processes to capture and understand mouse squeaks. This work is significant to Tricorder Array Technologies LLC.'s which led us to hire him as an DSP and AI Software Engineer.

On a personal note, I believe John to be an outstanding person capable of about anything he applies himself. He enjoys working with others and adds to their success as well as his own. It is my honor to recommend this man to your program.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Robert J Tindal". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.
